

A problem of the long-term safety of the radioactive waste

V.S. Arens, G.H. Hcheyan, P.P. Poluektov, A.S. Polyakov, A.A. Vertman
Russian Academy of Natural Sciences, Mining and Metallurgical Section
117049, Leninsky Prospect, Moscow, Russia

In present time the atomic energy development is in stagnation all over the world (except countries of South-East Asia: Japan, South Korea, China). Among the reasons of stagnation not the last is unsolved problem of disposal of radioactive waste (RW) being generated by atomic energetics. To understand the problem one should study the main aspects of RW.

©2023 – Solution Mining Institute

Full Paper is Available in the SMRI Library(www.solutionmining.org)